Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 10 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy at first, becoming brighter later.

Today:
A cloudy morning with isolated fog patches and outbreaks of light drizzle, however steadily improving during the afternoon with some sunshine to end the day. Feeling mild. Maximum temperature 17 deg C (63 deg F).

Tonight:
Patchy cloud overnight, although temperatures may drop quickly in any clear spells with misty conditions forming. Dry, light winds, but feeling colder than of late. Minimum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Monday:
Turning cloudy during the morning but most likely staying dry. Feeling cooler across East Anglia. Becoming breezy overnight with showers by dawn. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Mostly cloudy with showers across the east on Tuesday. Drier on Wednesday and Thursday with occasional sunny spells, risk of fog patches early in the morning.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.